THE SÁZAVA RIVER

The Sázava is one of the most beautiful rivers in the country, much sought-after by paddlers. It starts from the pond Velké Dářko and after 218 kilometres flows into the Vltava. Some 208 kilometres, from Žďár nad Sázavou to the confluence in Davle, are navigable. The most attractive parts include the rapids of Stvořidla and in the river section between Krhanice and Pikovice. The whole navigable part of the Sázava is surrounded with many natural landmarks and historical monuments. Besides that, there are plenty of campsites, boat rentals, restaurants and buffets. The area is easily accessible by train - for example, the legendary Sázava Pacific Railroad.

The lower course of the Sázava is often called the cradle of the Czech Tramping. It was here that the first campers started to make trips to around 1918. Their legacy is reminded by numerous cottage settlements to this day.

SÁZAVA PACIFIC RAILROAD

This legendary railroad significantly affected the economic development of the entire Sázava region. It was built at the turn of the 19th and 20th centuries and led from Prague-Modřany through Davle further on along the Sázava River to Světlá nad Sázavou. Thanks to its romantic setting and bold engineering solution, it rightly ranks among the most beautiful rail routes in the Czech Republic. It leads through beautiful nature and is lined with many historical and natural places of interest.

The railroad became especially popular thanks to wanderers (called tramps in Czech) who would set out from Prague to hike in the local wilderness since the first half of the 20th century. It is possible to take a ride on a steam train or a vintage motor train: just choose one of the Nostalgic Rides that are organized annually by České dráhy a.s. or regularly by the Sázava Pacific Railroad Association.

ČESKÝ ŠTERNBERK CASTLE

The magnificent stone estate has been soaring on a rocky spur above the Sázava River for over 770 years. Twenty generations of the Sternberg noble family have lived in between its walls. The tour about the castle acquaints the visitors with the stories and the way of living of the latest owners. The exhibition includes a unique collection of copperplate engravings from the period of the Thirty Years War, which is one of the largest monothematic collections of prints in Europe.

KONOPIŠTĚ CHATEAU

The original castle in the style of the French fortress was apparently established by Prague Bishop Tobiáš nearby his family seat in Benešov around 1294. After the extinction of the Benešovice family, Konopiště passed in 1327 into the hands of the Šternberks (Sternbergs) to remain there for the next 275 years.

During the 17th through to the 19th centuries, a number of influential noble families possessed Konopiště. In 1887, the estate was bought by Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria, who had the chateau rebuilt in the historicizing style and transformed its surroundings into a landscaped park. He founded the Rose Garden with greenhouses and placed his extensive collections in the castle.

In 1921, the Czechoslovak state took over Konopiště from the archduke's heirs and made the chateau and the park partly accessible to the public. During World War II, Konopiště served as the headquarters of the SS nazi organisation. After the liberation, the chateau was reopened to the public in the form given thereto by Ferdinand of Austria-Este. There are four sightseeing tours, comprising the Museum of St. George, the shooting hall and the adjacent Rose Garden with greenhouses. The castle moat is home to the bear George. One of the options of how to get to Konopiště from Benešov is to take a tourist train from one of its numerous stops in the historic centre of this nearby town.

SÁZAVA MONASTERY

Sázava is the third oldest monastery in Bohemia. It is located in a place where a Christian hermit named Procopius settled in a cave above the Sázava River at the beginning of the 11th century. On the hill above the right bank of the river, he founded a Benedictine monastery around 1032 thanks to the Přemyslid princes Oldrich and his son Bretislav. The monastery followed up on the legacy of the missionaries of Great Moravia, Saints Cyril and Methodius, and became an important centre of Slavic liturgy, education and literature. It was also renowned as a place where the poor and the sick found advocacy and healing. The life of Saint Procopius is pictured in the frescoes in the cloister, which have been gradually uncovered since 2007. The monastery is a national cultural monument and Saint Procopius pilgrimage site.

JEMNIŠTĚ CHATEAU

Since 1868 the chateau has been associated with the Sternberg family. Its current owner, Jiří Sternberg, lives here with his wife Petra, son Vojtěch Václav and daughter Izabela. They have restored the estate, opened it to the public, arranged expositions and furnished its halls for marriages. Café Custozza has been opened here, where the owners offer original home-made desserts. They also sell game from their own hunting grounds – meals prepared of the game meat may be tasted in the castle restaurant too.

Along with the castle restoration, the owners also take great care of the park, founded by František Adam Trauttmansdorff sometime around 1725. The current owners have renewed the system of paths, established an alpine garden, a rose garden and a natural pond, repaired the historical park, the courtyard of honour and the linden alley, planted hundreds of plants and trees.

The lady of the manor is the author of the elegant Hunting Dress Code by Petra Sternberg brand. Her daughter makes original jewellery of the Czech glass beads and self-made twisted pearls under the brand name Bela.

PRŮHONICE CHATEAU

The originally medieval Gothic castle was built on a rocky promontory above the Botič stream, in the vicinity of a Romanesque mansion, from which only the Romanesque Church of the Birth of the Blessed Virgin Mary has been preserved. Today's appearance of the chateau is the result of numerous reconstructions. In the chateau there is an exhibition "Průhonice Chateau and Park, a work of nature and human spirit", presenting the history of the chateau and the park and the Natura Gallery, which focuses on exhibitions of contemporary art. The Průhonice Park and Chateau is owned by the Institute of Botany of the Academy of Sciences of the Czech Republic.

PRŮHONICE PARK

The 250-hectare landscaped park was founded in 1885 by Count Ernst Emanuel Silva-Tarouca. He used the rugged valley of the Botič stream and its tributaries of the Dobřejovice and Zdiměřice streams and founded masterfully chosen vistas as the basis of the park composition. The vegetation was composed of both domestic and exotic trees, groups of trees and shrubs and alternated with meadows, ponds, streams and their blind arms. His lifelong endeavour resulted in the stunning landscape work that has become a National Cultural Monument.

In the film footsteps

Do you want to know where the Circus Bukowsky from the thriller of the same name was located? It was in the campground near the Sázava River in Pikovice.

The interior of St. Adalbert's church in Jílové u Prahy appeared in the Oscar-winning film by Miloš Forman Amadeus as well as in the film drama The Bridge at Remagen.

In the comedy Theory of Tiger (Teorie tygra), Olga came to the square of Jílové u Prahy to pick up her husband Jan, who had stolen a herd of goats.

JÍLOVÉ U PRAHY

The royal town of Jílové u Prahy was founded in the 13th century as a mining settlement and its rich past is closely connected with gold mining. Gold attracted the famous alchemist Edward Kelley to Jílové, who owned a number of buildings in the town and its surroundings, including the Mince (Coin) House. The oldest preserved building in Jílové is St. Adalbert Church from the 13th century, which houses a unique altar painted on panels. The square is dominated by the town hall, where the municipal jail has been preserved. The Corpus Christi Church from the 14th century stands at the Jílové Cemetery. In the part of the town called Lázně (Spa), where a healing spring allegedly spews, there is the Chapel of St. Wenceslas.

REGIONAL MUSEUM IN JÍLOVÉ U PRAHY

The establishment of the museum was instigated by its founder Leopold Čihák in 1891. It is located in the Mince (Coin) House, where the royal mining office resided in the Middle Ages. Currently, there are four permanent exhibitions in the museum: The first one, entitled "The History of Gold Mining and Processing", introduces gold from various angles as well as its processing in the Czech Republic and abroad. According to historical records, the gold deposits in Jílové formed the most important gold-bearing district in the Czech lands. The archaeological exposition "Ora et labora" (Pray and work) is dedicated to the Benedictine St. John the Baptist monastery in Ostrov u Davle founded in 999, the oldest history of Jilové and the extinct medieval settlement in Hradištko by Davle. The next permanent display called "Jílové reflected in gold" maps the history of the town from the 15th through to the 20th century. And last but not least, the exhibition named "Czech Tramping and Nature of the Lower Sázava Region" is dedicated to the landscape delimited by the Vltava and the Sázava rivers and the history of the Czech Tramping movement, which came into existence in the southern surroundings of Prague around 1918.

The museum also operates a nature trail called "The Jílové Gold Mines" that - among other things - leads from the town centre to the accessible mining drifts of St. Joseph and St. Anthony of Padua.

KAMENNÝ PŘÍVOZ

The village is the birthplace of the writer Jan Morávek (1888-1958), who in his books - rural novels with genre pictures - depicted the countryside and the distinctive inhabitants around the Sázava River to present them to the general public.

HRADIŠTKO

The village of Hradištko is situated on a rocky promontory near the confluence of the Vltava and the Sázava rivers. It consists of four local districts - Hradištko, Pikovice, Brunšov and Rajchardov. Thanks to its good accessibility by boats and trains it became a popular tourist destination and a cradle of the Czech Tramping. The local, 416 meters high, hill Medník is a notable botanical locality - the only place in the Czech Republic where a rare dog's tooth violet grows. The whole site is a National Natural Monument and the oldest Czech nature trail passes through there. The visitors can also walk through Hradištko along the nature trails Vystěhované Hradištko or Sekanka - Ostrov monastery - St. Kilian. The popular Posázavská Trail begins in Pikovice. Its most attractive part is situated between Pikovice and Žampach, where the path is carved in the rock and offers attractive views. An interesting rock formation Pikovická jehla (Pikovice Needle), also called Pikovický komín (Pikovice Chimney), which is a part of the route too, is nevertheless only accessible to mountain climbers who can enjoy the view from its top with a wooden cross.

PEPŘ HILL LOOKOUT TOWER

The steel truss structure nearby Jílové u Prahy is 30 meters high, with the viewing platform situated at the height of 18 meters accessible by a spiral staircase.

DOLNÍ BŘEŽANY

The village lies on the southern outskirts of the capital city of Prague at the heights delimited by the Vltava River and the Zalužanka Stream (Břežanský Stream). According to archaeological findings, the area has been settled since the Neolithic Age. The first written record of the village dates back to 1332. It houses a Renaissance chateau with St. Mary Magdalene Chapel.

ZÁVIST OPPIDUM

The largest Celtic oppidum in Bohemia is located on the Hradiště hill above the valley of Břežany. The location is a National Cultural Monument. An educational trail leads through the area. The remains of an early medieval fort are located on the Hradištětko hill between the road connecting Dolní Břežany with Lhota and the valley of Břežany.

On the square in Mnichovice there is a house, which turned into an inn in the historical TV series Sons and Daughters of Jakub Sklár (Synové a dcery Jakuba Skláře).

Berchtold Chateau of Kunice appeared as a fictional hotel in several episodes of The Office in the Rose Garden (Ordinace v růžové zahradě) and the Blue Code (Modrý kód) TV series.

The U Sejků pub in Hrusice together with the "Upper" Hrusice pub became famous thanks to the writer and painter Josef Lada.

To the southeast of Prague there is a tourist area known as Josef Lada's Country, named after one of the most outstanding personalities of the Czech culture – the painter, illustrator and writer Josef Lada (1887–1957), who drew inspiration for his work in here. Besides other things, he set the well-known stories about the Tomcat Mikeš and the bogeymen and vodyanoy to this country.

MNICHOVICE

The town was founded (originally as a village) in 1134 by the Sázava monks who began to spread Christianity here. The dominant feature of Mnichovice is the Church of the Nativity of the Blessed Virgin Mary. It was founded in 1140 as a Romanesque basilica by the Sázava abbot Sylvester "to honour Saint Michael and all the heavenly virtues". Around 1330 it was rebuilt into a Gothic church dedicated to the Nativity of the Blessed Virgin Mary. In the tower, there are three big bells— Jan, Burian, and Watchmaker (Hodinář), one smaller bell and a clock.

Tips for family trips

The Baroque rectory in Pyšely appeared in the series Doctors of Počátky (Doktoři z Počátků) and was also the backdrop of the detective story The Case for the Exorcist (Případ pro exorcistu).

ČERČANY

The significant buildings in Čerčany include the Hussite Church of the Czechoslovak Hussite Church on the hill beyond the village and Vávra's (formerly Spálenský) Mill. Another dominant of the village is the old water tower U Sekalů, standing by the main railway station. After the 1920s, the cottage settlements were established by the Czech tramps in vicinity of Čerčany. One of the most famous called Ztracená stopa (The Lost Footprint) and situated in the valley of the Benešov brook has survived to this day. The writer Bob the Hurricane from the Czech Tramping movement (Josef Peterka by his own name) is one of the notable personalities who lived in Čerčany for a certain time.

POŘÍČÍ NAD SÁZAVOU

The village was founded in the 15th century by merging of the historical settlements of Poříčí, Kouty and Balkovice. Its most significant historical monument is the Romanesque St. Peter and St. Paul Church from the turn of the 11th and 12th centuries. One of only four crypts of the same age and form in Bohemia has been preserved in the local St. Havel Church from the beginning of the 13th century. The village is also associated with the Hussite wars - the victorious battle of Jan Žižka with the armies of the lords of Šternberk, Dubá and other Czech towns standing on the side of the Emperor Sigismund, which took place on 20 May 1420, is commemorated by the granite monument erected in 1924.

LŠTĚNÍ

The founding of the village on the left bank of the Sázava River dates back to the times of emergence of the nearby Slavic fortified settlement mentioned in the Chronicle of Bohemians by Cosmas. The dominant feature of Lštění is the church of St. Kliment from the early 14th century. An interesting technical monument is the original British engineering folding bridge Bailey Bridge, which has been linking Lštění with the village of Čtyřkoly since 1949.

MRAČ

According to archaeological findings, there was a wooden stronghold in this location in the middle of the 13th century, of which only two hills, a moat and mounds have been preserved. The place is a National Cultural Monument. To the east, the second fortress Mrač was built in the 14th century.

ZLENICE-HLÁSKA U SENOHRAB

The ruins of a castle founded in the early 14th century. Its fate sealed the Poděbrady wars in 1463-1465, when the castle was destroyed and fired by the army of Zdeněk Konopištský of Šternberk. Only the masonry of a large tower and several residential buildings, gates and perimeter walls with rounded corners and ditches have been preserved. The remnants of the castle and the hill on which it stands are called Hláška according to a small settlement that once belonged to the castle and was apparently destroyed at the same time.

PUBLIC RIVER BATHS

One of the First-Republic swimming baths is located at the confluence of the Sázava River with the Mnichovka Stream beneath the ruins of Zlenice Castle. A ferry connects it to the opposite bank. Visitors can use stylish changing cabins, outdoor and indoor showers, grassy area with a playground, a sandpit or a table tennis table. In the swimming pool area, which also serves as a boating campsite, there is a fireplace with a covered seating area. You can also refresh yourself in the neighbouring Bastirna snack stall, which is open from May to mid-September.

STARÁ DUBÁ AND ODRANEC

The unique remains of a castle and a small town in the castle surroundings lie near Přestavky. The first written record of the castle dates back to 1282. It was demolished in 1466 by the troops of the King George of Poděbrady. The neighbouring town probably had the same fate.

The gate of the Neveklov agricultural cooperative, which the driver Pávek with his assistant Otík regularly walked through in the comedy My Sweet Little Village (Vesničko má středisková), still can be seen in Křečovice.

The main characters of the Czechoslovak science fiction series The Visitors (Návštěvníci) were contacting their partners from the future from the pond Valcha by Borovka nearby Neveklov.

Every morning, the peculiar hero of the film comedy My Sweet Little Village (Vesničko má středisková) - Otík Rákosník - walked out of a cottage placed in the village square of Křečovice.

NEVEKLOV

The oldest record of Neveklov dates back to 1285. Since 1550, the estate of Tloskov has been part of Neveklov too. Nowadays, the Tloskov Social Services Centre (www.tloskov.eu) has its seat in the originally Renaissance chateau. During World War II, a military training ground for the SS troops of 44,000 hectares was established in the Neveklov region. The places of interest in Neveklov include the former Town Hall, the St. Havel Church, the synagogue, the Jewish cemetery and the plague column. There also is a monument commemorating the violinist Jan Kubelík, as the ancestors of the famous Kubelík family - the violin virtuoso of the worldwide reputation Jan, the legendary conductor Rafael and the outstanding violinist René - came from the village.

CHVOJÍNEK

In the village there is an early-Gothic church of St. Wenceslas, which the filmmakers have often become fond of. It can be seen, for instance, in the poetical film The Bouquet (Kytice) based on the poetry book by K. J. Erben of the same name.

LOOKOUT TOWER OF THE NEŠTĚTICKÁ MOUNTAIN

The lookout tower stands at 536 meters above the sea level, about 5 kilometres from Neveklov. It is 16 meters high. It was built in 1927 to mark the 300th anniversary of the suppression of a peasant uprising. Despite its neglected status it is one of the sought-after tourist destinations. In the film footsteps

The boss of the main protagonist's (Kvido's) father in the movie Those Wonderful Years that Sucked (Báječná léta pod psa) had his office at the JAWA factory in Týnec nad Sázavou.

Krhanice was transformed into the village of Žalovice, where the fictional christening was to take place in the crazy comedy of the same name (Křtiny).

In the grove with a bunker behind the entrance to the Military Technical Museum in Lešany, scenes of the biographical film Jan Masaryk were filmed.

TÝNEC NAD SÁZAVOU

The first written record of Týnec castle dates back to 1318. But a wooden castle, later turned into a stone castle with a Romanesque rotunda, had already been here in the 11th century. In 1785 the castle was in possession of Count Franz Joseph of Vrtba, who founded a stoneware factory in the town and had the castle grounds modified for manufacturing purposes. In 1812 he built a new factory building, which was later converted into a hotel by Franz Ferdinand of Austria. The founder of modern industry in the town in the 1930s was the Prague entrepreneur Ing. František Janeček, who built METAZ foundry of aluminium, steel and non-ferrous metals in Týnec and initiated production of JAWA motorcycles and MINOR passenger cars in the former spinning mill in Brodce.

Local landmarks include the originally Gothic Church of Sts. Simon and Jude or the Neo-Renaissance house U Micků with a facade richly decorated with frescoes and sgraffito by Karel Ludvík Klusáček.

TÝNEC CASTLE WITH MUSEUM AND GALLERY

A rare exhibition of Týnec stoneware can be seen in the museum. The prismatic Gothic tower, which is the home of the protected greater mouse-eared bats in summer, offers a lookout.

ZBOŘENÝ KOSTELEČEK

The ruins of the castle formerly called Kostelec. It was probably founded during the reign of Wenceslas II at the end of the 13th century and should have guarded the local trade route. In the 15th century it was destroyed by the army of King George of Poděbrady. From Týnec nad Sázavou you can approach the ruins by a wooden footbridge for pedestrians and cyclists, which can be reached by a bike path.

LEDCE

In this village by the Sázava River there is the church of St. Bartholomew from the second half of the 13th century.

PROSEČNICE

Former pulmonary sanatorium, which was the largest of its kind in Bohemia. It was built by the Humanity Association between 1916 and 1922. By 1937, 20,000 patients had been treated here. During World War II, the hospital was transformed into a school for armoured grenadiers, which was part of the SS training ground.

KRCHANICE

The first written record of Krhanice dates back to 1228. Actor Otakar Brousek was born in here – he is commemorated in the plaque on the wall of the municipal office.

LEŠANY

The poet František Hrubín grew up in this picturesque village. He is commemorated by the memorial hall at the municipal office.

LEŠANY CHATEAU

The chateau was built on the site of the former fortress by the Prague St. Vitus chapter, which owned Lešany from 1683 until 1949, when the chateau was nationalized. Since 1996 it has been in possession of Ladislav Truhlář, who has gradually reconstructed the chateau and its surroundings. The chateau, chapel and rooms with restored frescoes painted by Jan Václav Spitzer in 1758 can be seen all year round. The castle has a guest house and a restaurant.

HORNOPOŽÁRSKÝ FOREST

The nature park of some 25 square kilometres is located on the right bank of the Sázava River between the villages of Kamenice, Krhanice, Jílové u Prahy and Týnec nad Sázavou. Its highest point is Grybla, on the southern side of which there is a steep ravine with Panská skála rock dominating above it and offering an outlook. To the west of the summit the Kněží Mountain rises. The Wolf Gorge is a protected site – the gully overgrown with beech trees that are up to 200 years old features a stone sea of granite boulders piled up to several meters in several places, under which a small stream flows. Marked hiking and cycling trails pass through the forest.

SÁZAVA

Sázava is one of the most beautiful towns by the river of the same name. In the cadastre of the town, there is a Slavic fortified settlement from the 8th and 9th centuries, as well as two prehistoric Neolithic hill-forts and Neolithic limestone quarries. Its most significant historical events are connected with the arrival of the Christian hermit Procopius, who at the beginning of the 11th century founded a Benedictine Monastery on a hill above the right river bank, which has been an important centre of education and literature since the early Middle Ages. The monastery is a national cultural monument and a place of pilgrimage to St. Procopius. The modern history of the town is mostly associated with the tradition of Czech glassmaking. Local places of interest include the Votočnice Nature Trail leading through a floodplain meadow where, according to a legend, St. Procopius formed so called Čertova brázda (Devil's Furrow) when ploughing the ground with an evil spirit, a chapel with a spring named V Lázních (In the Spa) that is a traditional pilgrimage site, or a recreational area at the deconsecrated Church of St. Martin.

In the film footsteps

The chateau in Zruč nad Sázavou appears in the films The River is Performing Magic (Řeka čaruje), Grandpa, Kyliyan and I (Dědeček, Kyliján a já) or in the TV series The First Republic (První republika).

The premises of the former Sázavan shoe factory in Zruč nad Sázavou formed the backdrop for the film Loves of a Blonde (Lásky jedné plavolásky).

ZRUČ NAD SÁZAVOU

The oldest written record of Zruč dates back to 1328. The chateau dominating the town was preceded by a medieval castle built probably in the first third of the 14th century. Several aristocratic families - the powerful and aggressive Kolowrat family, the Kalenic family whose coat of arms is in the town's coat of arm, or the Schebek family - important railroad builders - made significant contributions to the history of Zruč. The chateau was reconstructed in three stages using the European funds, and since 2010 there have been guided tours introducing the chateau as it was in times of the Schebek owners.

ZRUČ NAD SÁZAVOU CHATEAU AND PARK

Visitors can choose from two sightseeing tours. The small guided tour includes the chateau interiors and the large tour adds the chapel and the ascent to the chateau tower. In the attic, there is a permanent exhibition Kingdom of Dolls. The castle is surrounded by a beautiful park with a pond.

KOLOWRAT TOWER

Inside the tower there is an interesting exposition of medieval weapons. Each floor of the tower acquaints children in an interactive and playful way with the history of the building, with the period instruments and with weapons reminiscent of the castle's defence in the Middle Ages. From the top of the twenty-meter tower, there is a magnificent view of the entire chateau complex.

It takes 130 steps to get to the viewing platform at the height of 24m. The lookout tower is accessible throughout the year, admission free.

Sun Bay (Sluneční zátoka)

The meadow near Ledeč nad Sázavou bears the Scout name of Sun Bay. The local memorial commemorates the writer Jaroslav Foglar (1907-1999), the author of the Fast Arrows (Rychlé šípy), who would come here to summer camps with his Scout troop and who found here inspiration for his book Boys from the Beavers' River (Hoši od Bobří řeky).

Stvořidla rapids

The area was declared a nature reserve in 1948. In the valley between the granite massifs of Melechov and the Žebrákovský Hill, the river runs over hundreds of rounded granite boulders and rocky thresholds. Local landscape has inspired a whole range of painters and writers.
